WHY ADVERTISING SUCCEEDS!

From millennials to active retirees

Three generations of Floridians have grown up with Hotspots! Happening Out, so it makes sense that our engaged audience reflect the full spectrum of Florida's LGBT community - a fact confirmed in an independent Readership Survey.

- More than 76% of respondents say they visited a restaurant or bar as a result of seeing an ad in Hotspots
- 78% attended an advertised event
- 86% of Hotspots respondents interact with Social Media Platforms
- 52% of respondents reported household income exceeding $80,000 annually, and 38.7% reported household income between $100,000 - $250,000.

Florida's diverse LGBTQ+ community

There's the multicultural mix of South Florida - the gateway to the Caribbean, Latin America and the world - reflected by the diversity on the street of colorful, pulsating and energetic Miami Beach. Add to that key West, Fort Lauderdale, Wilton Manors and the West Palm Beaches and you begin to understand the state's LGBT tourism growth.

Within Fort Lauderdale, Wilton Manors is the hotspot for nightlife, shopping, bars and entertainment, restaurants, and shops.
